

Chris Page Bio 2023

I grew up in the suburbs of London, then studied at Bristol university, living in France for a year during my studies. I worked in Procurement for over a decade at various companies around London in my 20's and early 30's.

We then moved to the area in January 2022 and we now happily live in Sissinghurst as a family of 4 - my wife and 2 young sons. We moved out of South London following the pandemic - having the option to live a bit further from our respective offices allowed us to secure a change of scenery, a bit more space, and we fell in love with the village as soon as we saw it.

We love bringing up our family in such a beautiful area and spending some time frequenting the Milk House! And also attending some of the great family events around the area.

I now work as an Independent Financial Adviser and being self employed has given me the flexibility to look at volunteering or other roles where I could give back to the community. When the role of a councillor for the village opened up it seemed a great chance to help to guide some of the issues facing villagers, and making the area the best it can be for our young sons. I'm looking forward to helping where I can.
